

When I die....

When I die, do not come running for me.

When I die remember I am not gone.

When I die do not think the world has ended.

When I die remember I will be with you.

As you live run towards the sun.

As you live think of the stars.

As you live run do not walk.

As you live remember to give all.

On starry nights, under the summer moon

We will meet again but not too soon.
