

Comparing your water usage

Over time, as your water usage accumulates in your consumption history, you will have the ability to compare changes in your consumption from the previous day, week, or month. These comparisons are in the top leader bar above your consumption chart, next to your account information.

Note: If you have more than one account, click on the “Select Property” link on your dashboard to toggle between your active accounts to view consumption.

